

Beat-the-Clock Essay Workshop™

Dear parents of high school students,

On Saturday, January 28th, we have a wonderful opportunity to hone our students' short essay writing skills. Janice Campbell, a writing teacher who's been touring the Mid Atlantic with her Beat-the-Clock Essay Workshop will be here to share her techniques for tackling the timed essay. These are skills that all high school students can put to regular use but most notably for the S.A.T. tests and for all Advanced Placement tests.

Janice Campbell is a lifelong learner, writer, and conference speaker who has enjoyed homeschooling since the late 1980's. She and her husband, Donald, have seen the benefits of home education in the lives of their four sons, and she takes joy in sharing what she has learned with others. Through her website, www.EverydayEducation.com, Janice offers inspiration, information, and resources for writing and homeschooling through the teen years, with a focus on making the most of the teen years through early college or home business.

Janice graduated cum laude from Mary Baldwin College with a B.A. in English. She is author of Transcripts Made Easy: Your Friendly Guide to High School Paperwork, Get a Jump Start on College! A Practical Guide for Teens, and Excellence in Literature: Reading and Writing Through the Classics, a five year literature program for grades 8-12; editor of The Virginia Homeschool Manual; and creator of the Beat-the-Clock Essay Workshop™, an innovative one-day workshop that prepares students for the SAT and other timed essays. Her website, www.Everyday-Education.com, offers information, resources, inspiration, and a free e-newsletter.
